CISHAHAYO SONGA Achille

Junior Software Engineer

In the pursuit of making an impact, we forget the contribution our small actions make to big things. I had been working on small projects since 2018 and learnt a lot since then. Experienced in software development lifecycle, and project management. I make sure that my project gets everything possible to make it a success. I am a great team player, skilled in working in cross-cultural teams and competent communicator, respecting my deadlines.
